ICAD London Conference

2023 LONDON

International Conference on Public Service, Management and Administration

August 21 - 25, 2023 | Hilton Hotel, Wembley, London, UK

Introduction:

Leadership and management in the 21st Century are becoming more complex and challenging. Organizations in the public and private sector are facing enormous changes occasioned by shifts in technological, political, economic, and sociological evolution.

To meet these challenges, we are expected to understand global perspectives and trends though operating locally. The 2023 London International Conference is focused on meeting these requirements and it has the theme:

- Driving Organizational Excellence through Strategic Innovations

The learning session is an important forum to address issues in the search for excellence, innovation, performance management strategies, vision, talent management etc.

Programme Objective:

The London 2023 International Conference is designed to create a forum outside of our regular work environment with all its distractions to concentrate, discuss, brainstorm and cross fertilize ideas on contemporary productivity and development issues that impacts on us as individuals desiring to create value and make a difference in a faltering nation.

- Participants will be exposed to a line-up of keynote presenters, each sharing experiences that will open you to new perspectives and possibilities.

- You will get in tune with emerging technologies, trends and influences in the innovative world of work.

- Discover practical solutions and strategies in use at excellent companies that can be practically applied to handle the challenges we face in the evolving work places.

- Will serve as an excellent business net-working opportunity.

- An opportunity to enhance your academic and professional certification as successful participants will be presented with Advanced Certificate in Management and Executive Techniques, Certificate of Participation and a Plaque of Honor.
