Top Strategies for Improving your Productivity in 2024

To survive and excel in 2024 and in the coming years requires a great plan and strategy. This is critical to be able to navigate an uncertain and tough economic environment. Maximizing productivity now requires upscaling our strategies.

Our technology driven world demands we explore more ways to enhance our productive with ourselves and our teams. In this, organization leaders and managers can enhance productivity by exploring achievable framework for excelling.

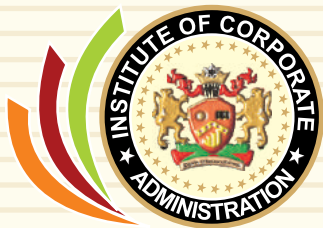

It is important to figure out what motivates teams and individuals. Productivity is directly related to how engaged and focused a person or team is aligned.

A recent study from HBR shows that people work harder when being watched closely and someone is appreciating their efforts.

Why Does INNOVATION Thinking Matter So Much?

Innovation is crucial to the survival of any organization. Research outcomes has revealed that the most successful companies in the 21st century were also the most innovative during the period.

The pace of change is challenging our work life and careers, because many human functions are becoming automated due to the speed at which modern science is eroding the traditional ways of getting things done. Scientists have simply refused to pause.

Explosive developments in AI (Artificial Intelligence) is focused on substitution of labour by new technologies and this is creating endless possibilities.

A study by the McKinsey Global institute reports that by 2030 at least 80% of employees globally could need a change of their careers due to digitization, robotics and AI advancements.

A report by Godman Sachs estimates that AI will replace an equivalent of 300 million full time jobs.

Forbes has also projected that AI will replace as many as two million manufacturing jobs by 2025.

As we witness these trends and revolutions, resistance will be futile. Admittedly, more new jobs will be created. To continue to ensure your relevance amid change, lifelong learning is key as events continue to unfold.

Are you ready to steer your career to the new direction?

We invite you to join us at the ICAD 2024 Careers Forum.
